Nasser Blockade Could Mean War

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser says he knows his blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba could lead to war with Israel and, if war does come, the Arabs will set out to destroy the Jewish state.

Israel was reported avoiding an immediate challenge to the announced blockade of its direct route to Iranian oil and other cargoes from the East. But it has said it will fight to keep the gulf open.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, who talked with Nasser Wednesday, reports today to the U.N. Security Council on his peace mission. The United States hopes his report can boost diplomatic efforts to prevent Arab-Israeli fighting over the gulf.

The Soviet Union has called on the United States and other Western nations to restrain Israel from a thrust against the Arabs.

A test of Egyptian control measures over the Strait of Tiran, at the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba, was possible today—but not by an Israeli ship.

A Danish freighter, identified as the Estelle Maersk, was due at the Jordanian port of Aqaba, two miles from Israel's gulf port of Elath. It was the first ship since the blockade was announced to come to Aqaba without first going through the Suez Canal.

The American freighter Green Island also was expected at Aqaba, but the Egyptian Middle East news agency said that on orders from the U.S. consul at Port Said, the Green Island changed course for an Ethiopian port. The U.S. Embassy denied any knowledge of the reported change.

The Soviet Communist party paper Pravda accused the United States of making statements to Egypt which "smell of an ultimatum." It referred to Al Aham's report that U.S. Ambassador Richard Nolte suggested withdrawal of Egyptian forces from Sinai and what Pravda called virtual U.N. trusteeship of Egyptian territory at the gulf's entrance.

Pravda also denounced U.S. 5th Fleet maneuvers in the Mediterranean, saying they were designed to aggravate tension in the eastern Mediterranean and the Near East.

Nasser's speech Friday was broadcast by Cairo radio. He said, "We will not back down on our rights in the gulf." If war breaks out, he said, "it will be total war and the objective will be to destroy Israel."

His speech came after Al Aham, which often reflects Nasser's political thinking, said Egypt had achieved its objectives against Israel and that war would come only if Israel starts it.

"The United States is our enemy," Nasser declared. "Britain is our enemy. Both are taking sides with Israel. So long as they support Israel, they are our enemies. When we are trying to exercise our legal rights, they threaten us with war and say peace is endangered."

He said he hoped all Arab countries around Israel would form a solid front, but conceded there were difficulties with Jordan, Israel's eastern neighbor.

Cairo radio announced that the ex-King Saud of Saudi Arabia has contributed $3 million to the Egyptian army. Meanwhile, troops from his nation, now under his half-brother King Faisal, were reported by Mecca radio to be marching to frontline positions on the eastern shore of the Gulf of Aqaba.

Juda High Graduates Its Dead

JUDA, Wis. (AP) — In silent sorrow Juda graduated its dead.

Nine diplomats, nine silver and blue tassels, nine blue carnations were given Friday night to the families of the girls who died on Juda High School's senior trip.

"Tonight a part of us is missing," said Dan Leaver, the class valedictorian, as he addressed the commencement ceremonies for the 26 survivors. "Don't shy away from their memories. Cherish their memories in your hearts."

The nine girls died March 30 as a jet airliner on a training flight crashed and exploded behind the motel where they were staying in a New Orleans, La., suburb on the class trip.

The school conferred diplomas on the 19 boys and 7 girls who lived, then read a roll of the dead as parents and relatives came forward to receive the graduation certificates.

Cubans Charge Air Violation

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The Cuban government charged today that a helicopter from the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo violated Cuban air space and landed on Cuban soil for six minutes Friday.

The Armed Forces Ministry called it an "offensive provocation" that could lead to a "serious incident."

"FOG SWEEPERS" — Called "fog brooms" by the New Jersey Transportation Department, these odd looking fans will, it is hoped, clear fog-bound areas for safer driving visibility.

Reagan Economy Gone with Wind

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, less than five months after his inauguration, is the author of a tax increase program totaling more than $1 billion.

Reagan asked the legislature Friday to add $128 million to the $946 million tax boost asked in March. He said faltering business wasn't bringing in the revenue the state's fiscal forecasters had expected, forcing the boost.

In January, Reagan pledged that his new Republican administration would turn to new taxes only if it "becomes clear that economies alone cannot balance the budget."

Reagan soon found that the built-in mounting costs of running a state of nearly 20 million residents would overwhelm his economy efforts.

By the third week in January, aides spoke of the need of $273 million in new taxes to balance Reagan's first budget. The size of the tax increase has been rising since then.

Reagan's budget is well over $5 billion, largest in the state's history. The major feature of Friday's request is extension of the sales tax to cover repair services and gas and electricity for other than residential use, raising another $80 million.

Earlier, Reagan asked the legislature to raise the sales tax from 4 to 5 per cent; to virtually double the $500 million collected by the state personal income tax, and to boost levies on liquor, cigarettes, banks and corporations.

Reagan contended the Democratic administration of former Gov. Edmund G. Brown left him with a big cash deficit because of inadequate financing of the 1966-67 budget.

Other slices of the tax program are needed to increase salaries, pay for unexpected costs of the state's medical aid program, help poor school districts and provide the property tax relief the governor promised.

A final tax settlement in the legislature isn't expected until shortly before the start of his new fiscal year on July 1.

Teacher Pay Raise Report Is Deflated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A published report that Gov. James A. Rhodes and legislative leaders had plans for $1,500 annual pay increases for Ohio school teachers was deflated by the governor in a statement issued Friday.

"We want salary improvement for teachers," the governor said "but it will have to be worked out as part of the School Foundation program and fit within foreseeable revenues spendable in that way."

The governor added: "After the Tax Study Commission and the tax-supported Education Review Committee Report, I expect to work in coordination with leaders of the General Assembly in putting together a fiscally sound program for education—one that will do justice to teachers as well as to other elements in the school picture."

Michigan Misses Become Michigan State Troopers

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Kay E. Whitfield and Noreen E. Hillary became the first women troopers in the 50-year-old history of the Michigan State Police at swearing-in ceremonies Friday.

The misses, each 25, took their oaths with 40 men.

"These young ladies are tough," said Trooper R. E. Dragomer, who conducted the physical education program, including judo, for the class of recruits.

"They shocked me—they progressed so rapidly," Dragomer said.

"They went as rapidly as the men, and in some cases faster."

Fair Weather Will Prevail Over Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS With scattered exceptions, most sections of the nation enjoyed reasonably pleasant weather today — the first full day of the extended Memorial Day weekend.

A line of thunderstorms developed from the Texas Panhandle to central Nebraska, and most of Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas and parts of Utah reported rain.

Cool air chilled New England, after a severe two-day storm, and most of the northern and central Plains.

For the bulk of the nation, conditions were fine. Temperatures ranged from the low 80s in the South to the low 70s in the central Midwest.

The New England storm, which dropped rain in deluge proportions and heavy snows in the north, has moved out to sea. Five deaths and millions of dollars in property damage were attributed to it.

The storm in the central Plains caused substantial damage northwest of Smith Center, Kan., where hail destroyed the wheat crop in a 35-mile area. Hailstorms also struck Phillipsburg and Naoma, Kan., but with less severity.

More than a half inch of rain splattered North Platte, Neb., and Akron, Colo., and amounts ranging up to about a half inch fell in numerous points in Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 37 at Houlton, Maine, to 80 at Needles, Calif.

Cincinnati Area Hit By Power Blackout

U.S. Command Reports New Border Action

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported powerful new assaults on Communist troops today in the sensitive border provinces of South Vietnam while American jets smashed again at North Vietnam's MIG airfields and a power plant inside Haiphong.

The raids cost the United States one downed Navy Skyhawk jet Friday, the 561st plane downed over North Vietnam. Returning pilots said one Soviet-built surface to air missile exploded 2,500 feet over the Kua Kam River and showered debris on a merchant ship moored in Haiphong. The nationality of the ship was not known.

Both on the ground and in the air the war appeared to be mounting in tempo.

A spokesman said the Marines have pulled all their men out of the southern half of the demilitarized zone, which they entered 10 days ago to wipe out Communist infiltration. Earlier today Marines had been locked with North Vietnamese troops on Hill 117 in the zone.

"As of now there are no Marines in the DMZ," a spokesman said. "But the situation around Con Thien remains fluid."

There was heavy fighting reported in the three northernmost provinces of South Vietnam. These are the provinces of traditional political opposition and where the Communists have focused massive efforts by guerrillas and regular North Vietnamese forces.

The South Vietnamese sent more than 1,000 soldiers, supported by armored vehicles, on a sweep today just outside the ancient city of Hue, the capital of Thua Thien Province.

Within three miles, the South Vietnamese hit about 500 Communist troops and fought a three-hour battle, with air and artillery support. Sixty Communists were reported killed.

To the south in Quang Tin Province U. S. Marines lifted the security wraps on Operation Union City 2, south of Da Nang. In the preceding 24 hours Marines killed 172 Communist soldiers in a series of sharp battles through thick underbrush and rugged terrain.

On Hill 117 the Marines had announced killing at least 41 Reds with 14 Americans killed and 102 wounded.

In a battle south of Da Nang, a battalion of Marines—about 1,000 men—had made heavy contact with a contingent of Communist soldiers of equal strength. The Leathernecks reported killing 141 enemy while taking losses of 28 killed and 40 wounded.

Although pilots encountered a blistering reception from SAMs and antiaircraft guns, the fleet MIGs stayed on the ground—where at least three were reported destroyed on the Kep airfield northeast of Hanoi.

Also bombed was the SAM missile training center at Thai Nguyen, 40 miles above Hanoi. It was the first time U.S. pilots had raided the center where crews are trained to fire what pilots call flying telephone poles.

Returning pilots reported heavy damage at all big targets. The Ung Bi power plant, put back in operation after being destroyed a year ago, was once again badly damaged. The Haiphong-West plant could not be operable after Friday's raid, a spokesman said.

Ex-Contender Gets Life Imprisonment

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Rubin "Hurricane" Carter, who slugged his way from state prison to a near miss at a world's boxing championship, faces a life sentence for a triple bar-room murder.

The 30-year-old former midweight contender and a codefendant, John Artis, 21, were convicted Friday on three counts of first-degree murder.

Crash Injuries Fatal to Youth

Larry Murphy, a senior at Teays Valley High School, died in Mercy Hospital 6:30 p. m. Friday from injuries suffered in an automobile accident 18 hours earlier.

Murphy became the 12th person to lose his life as a result of a traffic accident in Pickaway County since Jan. 1.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Murphy, Orient, the Teays ley and was a member of the varsity team as a junior. In addition he participated in track his junior and senior years.

THE YOUNG VICTIM was a passenger in a car operated by Gary Lee Bremer, 17, of Ashville. The accident occurred 12:36 a. m. Friday on Route 752 just east of Ashville. The accident is still under investigation by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department and Ashville Police Chief Glenn Clay.

Bremer has been cited for reckless operation by both Chief Clay and Deputy Sheriff James Lockard. In addition, Clay has cited the youth for two stop sign violations and four traffic light infractions.

Young Murphy was born April 27, 1948 in Louisa, Ky.

He is survived by his parents, three sisters, Mrs. Luther (Doris) Speakman, Circleville; Mrs. Dora Meadows, Columbus; Debra Meadows, Columbus; three brothers, Thurman, Columbus; Ronald, Columbus; Lee of the home; and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Campbell.

The Rev. Henry Giese of St. Paul Lutheran Church will officiate at funeral services Monday.

Arrangements are being completed by the Bastian Funeral Home, Ashville.

Lancaster Woman To Be Committed To Lima Hospital

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — A young Lancaster mother acquitted in the slaying of her daughter will be committed to Lima State Hospital because of Friday's verdict of innocent by reason of insanity.

The jury in the first-degree murder trial of Mrs. J. Michael Acton, 27, deliberated just over two hours before returning the verdict.

Mrs. Acton's 6-month-old daughter, Jennifer, was stabbed to death Jan. 31, and witnesses testified that Mrs. Acton cut her own wrists after the slaying. A psychiatrist testified that he considered Mrs. Acton legally insane when he examined her after the incident.

Junk Item Is Identified As Work of Michelangelo

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A Vatican art expert says an armless wooden crucifix that was sold along with old broken furniture by a nearby monastery is a rare sculpture by Michelangelo.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Mario Pinzuti, director of the Vatican's Institute for Art Restoration, said Friday he had studied the crucifix several months.

The monastery, in Viterbo, sold the piece to an unidentified Italian who apparently had no idea it might be the work of the Renaissance master. The crucifix, 35 inches high, is made of olive wood.

Six months ago Roman art collector Aldo d'Urso bought it from the Italian for 25 million lire—$40,000. D'Urso said a New York gallery, which he declined to name, has offered him $2 million for the crucifix.

The unidentified man bought the crucifix, some old chairs, benches and chests from the Convento della Verita—Monastery of Truth—at Viterbo for an undisclosed price.

Msgr. Pinzuti said Michelangelo most likely made the crucifix for the Monastery of the Holy Spirit in Florence when the monastery took him in as a guest and allowed him to study anatomy on corpses in its hospital.

The Vatican art scholar said an inscription on the piece, dated 1607 or 1608, reads: "Antonio Spengini had me buy this work by Michelangelo from the Monastery of the Holy Spirit."

The inscription, Pinzuti said, was discovered when the man who first bought the crucifix from the Viterbo monastery dipped it into hot water to clean it up. The water divulged a hidden layer of parchment and revealed the inscription.

Msgr. Binzuti said the features of the crucifix resemble those of the Christ in Michelangelo's famed Pieta in St. Peter's and in a drawing by Michelangelo now in a museum at Oxford, England.

D'Urso said he had no intention of selling the armless crucifix but would gladly lend it to museums to exhibit around the world.

Cable Failure Disrupts City, Aids Violence

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A power failure crippled downtown Cincinnati Saturday, disrupting normal city activity and causing three major department stores to close.

All power in a square-mile downtown area was shut down at 6:30 a.m. so repairs could be made to a cable failure that had touched off the power crisis at 11:35 p. m. Friday.

Spokesmen for the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. refused to "hazard a guess" when repairs would be completed and service restored, but it was expected to be a matter of hours.

Meanwhile hotel and office building elevators were at a standstill. Essential electric facilities in restaurants and other business places were out. Inoperative traffic lights caused confusion at intersections as work-bound motorists entered the area, many of them unaware of the power failure.

Police reported numerous instances of looting and vandalism during the initial blackout that began shortly before midnight and continued for three or four hours.

One 18-year-old youth was shot in the hip, police said, when he was caught looting a shop long the western limits of the affected area.

The first indication of trouble came with the short-circuiting of the 13,200 volt cable strung on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway bridge over the Ohio River, which also feeds power to Newport, Ky., at the southern end of the span.

A utility spokesman said the short-circuit caused a feed-back explosion to a generator in the company's western plant, thus spreading the darkness from Third Street on the south, eight blocks north of Central Parkway and from Broadway, to Central Avenue on the west.

The utility broadcast advisories to area residents through early morning hours of the scheduled 6:30 a.m. shutdown, urging them to stay out of the area.

Patrons of the Netherlands-Hilton Hotel situated within the city's tallest building faced the prospect of walking down as many as 29 floors through fire exit stairways to reach the street.

The city's two newspapers were virtually idle, the electric shortage causing metal pots, essential to type setting, to cool.

Shortly after 9 a.m. when it appeared it would become hours before power repairs were completed, officials of the three largest department stores, Mabley's, Pogue's and Shillito, closed their stores and sent their employees home.

Just minutes before power was shut off at 6:30 a.m., city firemen were called to a location adjoining the Shillito Department Store. An underground electric generator was ablaze, but the power shutdown itself took the heat from the blazing unit and firemen returned to their quarters.

Death Toll Five, Still Mounting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Ohio's traffic death toll mounted rapidly in the early hours of the Memorial Day weekend.

By mid-morning Saturday, at least five deaths had occurred on the state's streets and highways.

The toll showed a grim start for the 44-day weekend which will see law enforcement agencies out in force to keep the death toll below the predicted figure of 35 before the count ends at midnight Tuesday. The official weekend count began at 6 p. m. Friday.

Most of the early weekend fatalities were teen-agers.

U.S. Diplomats Turn to U.N. In Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the departure of Israel's Foreign Minister Abba Eban, U.S. diplomats turned to the United Nations today for the next round in strenuous diplomatic efforts to keep the Middle East crisis from erupting into a shooting war.

Eban wound up a hurried trip to Washington with a 1 1/2-hour talk with President Johnson Friday night before returning to Israel to report to his prime minister.

By agreement, neither the White House nor the Israeli leader would comment on Eban's day-and-a-half of discussions with the President, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other high officials.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant was scheduled to report today on his just-concluded peace effort in Cairo.

U.S. policymakers expected the Middle East question to be brought again before the U.N. Security Council Monday. If efforts fail there, the State Department was holding open the possibility of still other solutions involving multinational arrangements.

Rusk counseled restraint on all sides of the Middle East dispute Friday during a speech-making trip to Des Moines, Iowa.

"The situation remains very tense but we are hopeful that good sense will prevail," Rusk said.

Asked whether the United States should put pressure on Israel not to attack Egypt, he said: "Everybody should counsel everybody to keep calm and moderate in this serious situation, but I don't feel it is incumbent upon us to assume responsibility for restraining one of the parties."

In Washington, the Israeli Embassy denounced as pure fabrication an allegation by the Egyptian Embassy earlier Friday that Israel had massed her forces for an attack on Syria.

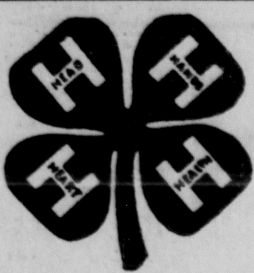

Thant Fears Middle East General War

BULLETIN UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant reported to the Security Council today that he feared a clash between Israel and Egypt over Israeli shipping through the Strait of Tiran would "inevitably set off a general conflict" in the Middle East.

He gave that estimate in a six-page report to the 15-nation council. The report followed his talk with President Gamal Abdel Nasser in Cairo early this week.

4-H Club News

By JAMES R. HELT
County Extension Agent, 4-H

The time for 4-H camp registration is here!

We are now receiving reservations for the 1967 4-H camps through June 1. This year, six camping programs will be of interest to Pickaway Counties. Each is for a specific group of 4-H'ers and each is held at Tar Hollow Group Camp site.

June 10 kicks off our program with a two-day Counselors Training Camp. During this session all older 4-H members who are going to be a camp counselor will receive training on duties, responsibilities, camp philosophy and camp facilities. Counselors are an important part of the camp staff.

June 12-17 is Sr. Camp. Members from Pickaway and Ross Counties 14 and older are invited to join in the fun. In addition to the regular activities, special classes are scheduled.

Included this year will be sessions on physical fitness conducted by Joe Roberts, former OSU basketball player; career opportunities by representatives from Ohio State University, Ohio University and Miami University; highway safety program by the Ohio State Highway Patrol; teen-age talkover session by John Yates; 4-H awards opportunities by Rod Pettesy, Area 4-H Agent; in addition to crafts, nature, and swimming.

Jr. Camps will be held July 2-6 and July 14-18. Again, this session is with Ross County and is for 4-H'ers up to 14 years of age. Activities are planned to provide a program of fun, fellowship and learning for all campers.

Beginners Camp will be June 22-26 and is planned with Fairfield County. This is for 4-H members who have never been to camp between the ages of 10 or 4th grade and 11 years of age. The camp program is planned to acquaint 4-H'ers with new adventures in nature, swimming instruction, crafts, working, playing and living together in the out-of-doors.

"Let's go camping this summer" is a very familiar saying around Pickaway County. Over 400 4-H members from Pickaway County attend.

Excellent facilities and staff are available at Tar Hollow for conducting our camps. Swimming is taught by a full time certified lifeguard and instructor on the lake waterfront. A registered nurse is on duty 24 hours a day. Three cooks prepare fine food.

A full time conservation instructor is available at all times for hikes, individual study, as well as the planned nature classes.

Afternoon activities include indoor and outdoor sports, as well as opportunities to do personal interest activities. Evening programs include vespers, flag ceremonies, recreation, and a big campfire.

As you can imagine, there is never a dull moment with all of the great camping activities. 4-H camp is the greatest for all 4-H members.

Each camp is supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service with extension agents serving as directors.

An excellent program is planned for 4-H members 12 and older at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, at Wooster, June 29 during Science Career Day. The program highlights will be (1) careers in agriculture and home economics (both professional and technical) and (2) to show what goes on at the Center in research and education.

The morning session will include three tours. Each member may go on two of the three tours.

The afternoon program will include 14 optional sessions, including nine professional and five technical areas. Members may attend two sessions.

A box lunch will be served at noon for 50 cents. The program starts at 9:30 a. m. and is over at 3:30 p. m.

Guidance counselors, parents and other adults working with youth are welcome. Reservation required by June 18, may be made at the local Extension office.

Pickaway County 4-H advisers will meet June 1 at the 4-H and Grange Building starting at 8 p. m. Primary topic will be details and plans for the 1967 Pickaway County Fair, to be held July 31 - Aug. 5.

In addition to the fair plans, there will be a question and answer session on upcoming 4-H activities and events.

Wayne Township Thread and Thimble

By Mary Ann Thornton

The ninth meeting was called to order by Nancy Horst, president. Mary Ann Thornton led the pledge to the flag and Shirley Garrison led the 4-H pledge. It was decided that the scrap iron pick up would be held after school closes. The members voted to have a fashion show and tea for their mothers on July 2. There will be a picnic at Melissa Schein's house. The Cancer drive money was turned in to the advisers.

Following the meeting there was a safety meeting led by Deborah Snyder, Linda Carter and Candy Wells.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Cindy Walls 7 p. m. June 6. All members are to bring their projects.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostess, Deborah Snyder.

Monroe Future Homemakers of Tomorrow

The regular meeting of May 17 was called to order by Linda Sines and was followed by the 4-H Pledge led by Nancy Morgan.

The topics of discussion were aid to Vietnam and ticket redemption. It was decided each member would bring one item of clothing or medical supplies. Demonstrations were the articles that were made last year. Each member modeled or displayed their projects.

A tea was held following the meeting honoring the mothers. Each member answered roll call by introducing their mother. Refreshments were served by Donna Stapleton, Jackie Houser and Peggy and Wendy Neff.

The next meeting will be June 7.

Walnut Stitches

By Pamela Cook

Members held their sixth meeting on April 15 at Nebraska Grange. Debbie Mitchell and Sherry Smith read a book out of the Bible.

After the regular meeting a demonstration on the pin cushion was given. Sandra Cook and Teresa Kirk gave a demonstration on artificial respiration. The third year girls held a meeting at the home of Sandra and Pamela Cook on May 20.

Swine and Dairy

By Nancy Wolford

The club held its third meeting at Pickaway Twp. School. Money making projects were discussed. A committee was appointed to see if it was possible

Inoculation Can Increase Soybean Yield

Inoculating soybeans just before planting to insure good nodulation of the crop is a good and inexpensive practice, according to Lewis C. Saboe, Ohio State University Extension Soybean specialist.

Increased yields from inoculation may be noticeable especially with soybeans grown on land for the first time, he says. But effective nodulation is a major economic factor with all soybean production since more than three pounds of fertilizer nitrogen are required to substitute for one pound of nodule nitrogen.

A well nodulated crop of soybeans will convert 60 to 65 pounds per acre of nitrogen applied as fertilizer.

Many types of materials and many different methods have been used to pre-inoculate soybean seed. Generally, Saboe suggests using an inoculate according to manufacturers' directions as close to planting time as feasible.

Treating soybean seed with a fungicide usually is not recommended for use with high germination (80 per cent or better) seed. However, according to the specialist, stands may be increased with a fungicide when (1) seed isn't high quality, (2) seed has less than 80 per cent germination, and (3) when weather conditions at planting time are not favorable for rapid germination.

Three new soybean varieties added to the recommended list for Ohioans this year include A-100 Amsoy and Wayne. Also recommended are Chippewa 64, Clark 63, Harosoy 63 and Lindarin 63.

Dropped from the recommended list this year were Shelby and Ross.

to have a dance.

The Jr. Leaders held a question and answer session for younger members. Litter boxes were passed out at the close of the meeting.

Jackson Jolly Tasters and Basters

By Dolores Karshner

The sixth meeting was held May 2 at Jackson School.

The meeting was called to order by president Sheila Eitel. The pledges were led by Pam Schooley and Donna Henson.

The club decided to donate cookies to the Red Cross. The club will have a card party for July 1 at Jackson School. Litter bags were passed out to each member.

The programs were handed out for the year and Cindy Akson was given a prize for the best decorated one. Each of the girls taking cooking brought a sample food they had prepared.

Demonstrations were given by Suzanne Steinhauer on how to remove stains, Dawn Bidwell on how to fringe tablecloth and napkins and Claire Hanson on planning a menu.

The seventh meeting was held May 9 at Jackson School. The pledges were led by Dawn Bidwell and Diane Timmons.

Girls taking cooking each had a menu. They met in a group and discussed them. The girls taking sewing got help starting their projects.

Cindy Akson gave a demonstration on how to make tailor tacks.

Refreshments were served by Diane Snyder and Janie Griffith.

"Spring is busting out all over." I think that's what the song says.

But who needs the words from a song to tell us. We can see its fresh blooming beauty all around us. Ah, but as you look out your window at the spring coloring is the view a little dimmed by a cloudy pane of glass?

Maybe this is the motivation needed to make the windows sparkle again. Your cleaning recipe will take one part time, two parts energy and a few minor ingredients.

During a survey made at Ohio State, women were asked to score difficult housekeeping tasks. Washing windows scored as the third most difficult housekeeping task.

Well, I've never found it too difficult and I don't know of any task that gives you more satisfaction than to stand back and look at a clean, sparkling window. After you have put forth a little effort.

It is a good idea to make a round of some of the stores to see what is available in the way of labor saving equipment. This will include long handled brushes, squeegees of various sizes, with or without cellulose sponges, and long handled brushes for outside that can be attached to garden hoses.

There are also a number of cleaning preparations that can be sprayed on or spread on. But you can make your own cleaning solution, put it in an empty cosmetic or detergent bottle and have your own spray. Be sure to label the bottle if you do this for safety and efficiency.

Plain water will do the job but if you wish to add a cleaning aid, use ammonia, vinegar, borax, or alcohol. If you use vinegar or ammonia, add about a tablespoon to one quart of cool water or use one or two teaspoons of borax.

Vinegar cuts grease and foliage stains. Ammonia makes glass sparkle. Alcohol is recommended for cold weather to keep water from freezing on the panes.

I don't think you will have to worry about that now but you can keep it in mind for winter. About a quarter of a cup of alcohol in a pail of water is right. Alcohol, the various sodas and ammonia are damaging to painted surfaces and to varnishes so be careful not to spatter the furniture or woodwork, if you are using them. If you use one of the commercial cleaners, be sure to read and follow directions.

Wash window frames and sills first, then the glass panes. To wash windows, squeeze your cloth or sponge as dry as you can. Wash the top, bottom, and middle of the pane and polish immediately with a clean, dry cloth, chamois or a crumpled paper towel. If you use all up and down strokes on the inside and cross-wise strokes on the outside, you can readily see which side is streaked.

For very soiled windows, use newspaper first to remove some of the surplus soil; then wash with one of the mixtures I mentioned. Avoid working in direct sun as the fast drying windows will streak.

Strong cleaning solutions are not necessary to clean windows since dirt does not penetrate glass. Don't use soap either. It leaves streaks on glass that is difficult to remove. If you have paint or putty stains on window panes remove these first. A little ammonia will take care of putty stains.

Fresh paint can be wiped off with turpentine. Old paint stains can be softened with turpentine and then carefully scraped with a razor blade. Hold the blade perfectly flat so you do not scratch the glass.

Razor blades are dangerous to use if you aren't very careful. It might pay you to shop at your hardware store for a small inexpensive tool to remove paint marks from glass.

Now that we have all the management details worked out, let's get those windows sparkling again.

Household detergents are being used as detectives to discover a variety of lawn pests before they have a chance to do serious damage. W. C. Morgan, noted turfgrass adviser at the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, describes the detergent test.

Mix one-fourth cup of packaged detergent per gallon of water, and apply the solution with a sprinkling can to one square yard of lawn surface. Within the time of five minutes, active larvae of such pests as sod webworms and cutworms will surface.

The solution will also show the presence of earwigs, leaf bugs and some beetles. The test should be used in several different areas to determine if the infestation exists throughout the lawn.

Examine the test sites carefully and identify each type of insect or mite, because no single insecticide is usually effective against all lawn pests. If more than a few of each type appear, treatment is in order.

It may be necessary to seek the help of a local nurseryman or the County Extension agent to accurately identify lawn pests and subsequently select the proper treatment. But it is nice to know that a household standby like "regular" detergent is ready to bring pest problems out in the open.

3 Boys Admit Guilt For Train Wreck

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Three boys caused a million-dollar train derailment near here Sunday by throwing a switch, the Scioto County sheriff's office reports.

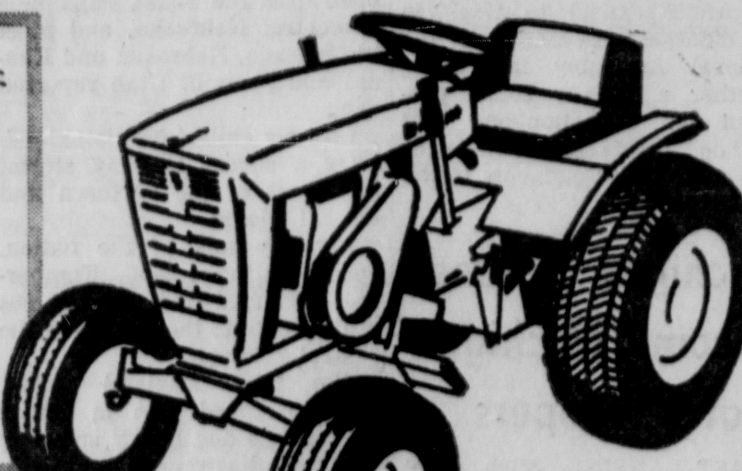

Officials said the boys admitted this week that they caused the wreck that injured five crewmen. After questioning, the boys were released to the custody of their parents. No charges were filed.

Treat Pigs To Eliminate Costly Worm Problems

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

"The worms crawl in, the worms crawl out." This song, which you may have heard in your younger years, is not true with hogs.

According to David Gerber, Area Swine agent, the pig, by his nature, helps himself become infected by his eating habits. The viable worm egg lying in the ground (that has been shed by an infected hog) just lies there until consumed.

Then he is off to the races and when devoured becomes part of the pig's food tank. In the case of the large roundworm (Ascarids) when they are "consumed", they hatch in the small intestine, and from there may enter the liver as early as 18 hours.

Within five or six days, these worms may leave the liver and locate in the lungs and then continue to grow and migrate to the throat and are then swallowed, moving to the small intestine, where they grow to adulthood and begin the egg-laying process. From the egg stage to complete growth until the worms can lay eggs again, is somewhere between 50 to 60 days.

The major problem with swine is the large roundworm. However, the nodular worm (Oesophagostomum) and whipworm (Trichuris) may become problems also. Controls for these internal parasites are: roundworm by the use of piperazine, or dichlorvos (Atgard V), or Hygromycin B (not to be used 48 hours before slaughter), or cadmium anthranilate (not to be used 30 days before slaughter), or sodium fluoride. A second worming may be desirable 21 days after the original treatment.

For nodular worm, the use of piperazine, Hygromycin B, or dichlorvos (Atgard V) is recommended. For the whipworm, dichlorvos (Atgard V) is the recommended treatment.

A fourth worm, called the lungworm (Metastrongylus) is best controlled by the prevention of eating of earthworms (that serve as intermediate hosts) by ringing pigs or moving them to a confined concrete feeding floor, or use of well-drained temporary pastures.

If pastures are infected, fallow for a month before plowing. Dry lots near buildings that have been in continuous use should be treated as above and used in alternate years to reduce parasite buildup.

The standard procedure is to simply treat pigs to eliminate these problems.

Your local veterinarian is best qualified to determine what parasites are present.

4-H Club News

By JAMES R. HELT
County Extension Agent, 4-H

The time for 4-H camp registration is here!

We are now receiving reservations for the 1967 4-H camps through June 1. This year, six camping programs will be of interest to Pickaway Counties. Each is for a specific group of 4-H'ers and each is held at Tar Hollow Group Camp site.

June 10 kicks off our program with a two-day Counselors Training Camp. During this session all older 4-H members who are going to be a camp counselor will receive training on duties, responsibilities, camp philosophy and camp facilities. Counselors are an important part of the camp staff.

June 12-17 is Sr. Camp. Members from Pickaway and Ross Counties 14 and older are invited to join in the fun. In addition to the regular activities, special classes are scheduled.

Included this year will be sessions on physical fitness conducted by Joe Roberts, former OSU basketball player; career opportunities by representatives from Ohio State University, Ohio University and Miami University; highway safety program by the Ohio State Highway Patrol; teen-age talkover session by John Yates; 4-H awards opportunities by Rod Petleys, Area 4-H Agent; in addition to crafts, nature, and swimming.

Jr. Camps will be held July 2-6 and July 14-18. Again, this session is with Ross County and is for 4-H'ers up to 14 years of age. Activities are planned to provide a program of fun, fellowship and learning for all campers.

Beginners Camp will be June 22-26 and is planned with Fairfield County. This is for 4-H members who have never been to camp between the ages of 10 or 4th grade and 11 years of age. The camp program is planned to acquaint 4-H'ers with new adventures in nature, swimming instruction, crafts, working, playing and living together in the out-of-doors.

"Let's go camping this summer" is a very familiar saying around Pickaway County. Over 400 4-H members from Pickaway County attend.

Excellent facilities and staff are available at Tar Hollow for conducting our camps. Swimming is taught by a full time certified lifeguard and instructor on the lake waterfront. A registered nurse is on duty 24 hours a day. Three cooks prepare fine food.

A full time conservation instructor is available at all times for hikes, individual study, as well as the planned nature classes.

Afternoon activities include indoor and outdoor sports, as well as opportunities to do personal interest activities. Evening programs include vespers, flag ceremonies, recreation, and a big campfire.

As you can imagine, there is never a dull moment with all of the great camping activities. 4-H camp is the greatest for all 4-H members.

Each camp is supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service with Extension agents serving as directors.

An excellent program is planned for 4-H members 12 and older at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, at Wooster, June 29 during Science Career Day. The program highlights will be (1) careers in agriculture and home economics (both professional and technical) and (2) to show what goes on at the Center in research and education.

The morning session will include three tours. Each member may go on two of the three tours.

The afternoon program will include 14 optional sessions, including nine professional and five technical areas. Members may attend two sessions.

A box lunch will be served at noon for 50 cents. The program starts at 9:30 a. m. and is over at 3:30 p. m.

Guidance counselors, parents and other adults working with youth are welcome. Reservation required by June 18, may be made at the local Extension office.

Pickaway County 4-H advisers will meet June 1 at the 4-H and Grange Building starting at 8 p. m. Primary topic will be details and plans for the 1967 Pickaway County Fair, to be held July 31 - Aug. 5.

In addition to the fair plans, there will be a question and answer session on upcoming 4-H activities and events.

Wayne Township Thread and Thimble

By Mary Ann Thornton

The ninth meeting was called to order by Nancy Horst, president. Mary Ann Thornton led the pledge to the flag and Shirley Garrison led the 4-H pledge.

It was decided that the scrap iron pick up would be held after school closes. The members voted to have a fashion show and tea for their mothers on July 2. There will be a picnic at Melissa Schein's house. The Cancer drive money was turned in to the advisers.

Following the meeting there was a safety meeting led by Deborah Snyder, Linda Carter and Cindy Wells.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Cindy Wells 7 p. m. June 6. All members are to bring their projects.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostess, Deborah Snyder.

Monroe Future Homemakers of Tomorrow

The regular meeting of May 17 was called to order by Linda Sines and was followed by the 4-H Pledge led by Nancy Morgan.

The topics of discussion were aid to Vietnam and ticket redemption. It was decided each member would bring one item of clothing or medical supplies. Demonstrations were the articles that were made last year.

Each member modeled or displayed their projects. A tea was held following the meeting honoring the mothers. Each member answered roll call by introducing their mother. Refreshments were served by Donna Stapleton, Jackie Houser and Peggy and Wendy Neff.

The next meeting will be June 7.

Walnut Stitches

By Pamela Cook

Members held their sixth meeting on April 15 at Nebraska Grange. Debbie Mitchell and Sherry Smith read a book out of the Bible.

After the regular meeting a demonstration on the pin cushion was given. Sandra Cook and Teresa Kirk gave a demonstration on artificial respiration.

The third year girls held a meeting at the home of Sandra and Pamela Cook on May 20.

By Nancy Wolford

The club held its third meeting at Pickaway Twp. School. Money making projects were discussed. A committee was appointed to see if it was possible

Inoculation Can Increase Soybean Yield

Inoculating soybeans just before planting to insure good nodulation of the crop is a good and inexpensive practice, according to Lewis C. Saboe, Ohio State University Extension Soybean specialist.

Increased yields from inoculation may be noticeable especially with soybeans grown on land for the first time, he says. But effective nodulation is a major economic factor with all soybean production since more than three pounds of fertilizer nitrogen are required to substitute for one pound of nodule nitrogen.

A well nodulated crop of soybeans will convert 60 to 65 pounds per acre of nitrogen applied as fertilizer.

Many types of materials and many different methods have been used to pre-inoculate soybean seed. Generally, Saboe suggests using an inoculate according to manufacturers' directions as close to planting time as feasible.

Treating soybean seed with a fungicide usually is not recommended for use with high germination (80 per cent or better) seed. However, according to the specialist, stands may be increased with a fungicide when (1) seed isn't high quality, (2) seed has less than 80 per cent germination, and (3) when weather conditions at planting time are not favorable for rapid germination.

Three new soybean varieties added to the recommended list for Ohioans this year include A-100 Amsoy and Wayne. Also recommended are Chippewa 64, Clark 63, Harosoy 63 and Lindarin 63.

Dropped from the recommended list this year were Shelby and Ross.

to have a dance.

The Jr. Leaders held a question and answer session for younger members. Litter boxes were passed out at the close of the meeting.

Jackson Jolly Tasters and Basters

By Dolores Karshner

The sixth meeting was held May 2 at Jackson School.

The meeting was called to order by president Sheila Eitel. The pledges were led by Pam Schooley and Donna Henson.

The club decided to donate cookies to the Red Cross. The club will have a card party for July 1 at Jackson School. Litter bags were passed out to each member.

The programs were handed out for the year and Cindy Aklon was given a prize for the best decorated one. Each of the girls taking cooking brought a sample food they had prepared. Demonstrations were given by Suzanne Steinhauer on how to remove stains, Dawn Bidwell on how to fringe tablecloth and napkins and Claire Hanson on planning a menu.

The seventh meeting was held May 9 at Jackson School. The pledges were led by Dawn Bidwell and Diane Timmons.

Girls taking cooking each had a menu. They met in a group and discussed them. The girls taking sewing got help starting their projects.

Cindy Aklon gave a demonstration on how to make tailor tacks.

Refreshments were served by Diane Snyder and Janie Griffith.

Home Agent Tips

By Marjorie Kaiser

Home Economics Agent

"Spring is busting out all over." I think that's what the song says.

But who needs the words from a song to tell us. We can see its fresh blooming beauty all around us. Ah, but as you look out your window at the spring coloring is the view a little dimmed by a cloudy pane of glass?

Maybe this is the motivation needed to make the windows sparkle again. Your cleaning recipe will take one part time, two parts energy and a few minor ingredients.

During a survey made at Ohio State, women were asked to score difficult cleaning tasks. Washing windows scored as the third most difficult housekeeping task.

Well, I've never found it too difficult and I don't know of any task that gives you more satisfaction than to stand back and look at a clean, sparkling window after you have put forth a little effort.

It is a good idea to make a round of some of the stores to see what is available in the way of labor saving equipment. This will include long handled brushes, squeegees of various sizes, with or without cellulose sponges, and long handled brushes for outside that can be attached to garden hoses.

There are also a number of cleaning preparations that can be sprayed on or spread on. But you can make your own cleaning solution, put it in an empty cosmetic or detergent bottle and have your own spray. Be sure to label the bottle if you do this for safety and efficiency.

Plain water will do the job but if you wish to add a cleaning aid, use ammonia, vinegar, borax, or alcohol. If you use vinegar or ammonia, add about a tablespoon to one quart of cool water or use one or two teaspoons of borax.

Vinegar cuts grease and foilage stains. Ammonia makes glass sparkle. Alcohol is recommended for cold weather to keep water from freezing on the panes.

I don't think you will have to worry about that now but you can keep it in mind for winter. About a quarter of a cup of alcohol in a pail of water is right. Alcohol, the various sodas and ammonia are damaging to painted surfaces and to varnishes so be careful not to splatter the furniture or woodwork, if you are using them. If you use one of the commercial cleaners, be sure to read and follow directions.

Wash window frames and sills first, then the glass panes. To wash windows, squeeze your cloth or sponge as dry as you can. Wash the top, bottom, and middle of the pane and polish immediately with a clean, dry cloth, chamois or a crumpled paper towel. If you use all up and down strokes on the inside and cross-wise strokes on the outside, you can readily see which side is streaked.

For very soiled windows, use newspaper first to remove some of the surplus soil; then wash with one of the mixtures I mentioned. Avoid working in direct sun as the fast drying windows will streak.

Strong cleaning solutions are not necessary to clean windows since dirt does not penetrate glass. Don't use soap either. It leaves streaks on glass that is difficult to remove. If you have paint or putty stains on window panes remove these first. A little ammonia will take care of putty stains.

Fresh paint can be wiped off with turpentine. Old paint stains can be softened with turpentine and then carefully scraped with a razor blade. Hold the blade perfectly flat so you do not scratch the glass.

Razor blades are dangerous to use if you aren't very careful. It might pay you to shop at your hardware store for a small inexpensive tool to remove paint marks from glass.

Now that we have all the management details worked out, let's get those windows sparkling again.

Household detergents are being used as detectives to discover a variety of lawn pests before they have a chance to do serious damage. W. C. Morgan, noted turfgrass adviser at the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, describes the detergent test.

Mix one-fourth cup of packaged detergent per gallon of water, and apply the solution with a sprinkling can to one square yard of lawn surface. Within the time of five minutes, active larvae of such pests as sod webworms and cutworms will surface.

The solution will also show the presence of earwigs, leaf bugs and some beetles. The test should be used in several different areas to determine if the infestation exists throughout the lawn.

Examine the test sites carefully and identify each type of insect or mite, because no single insecticide is usually effective against all lawn pests. If more than a few of each type appear, treatment is in order.

It may be necessary to seek the help of a local nurseryman or the County Extension agent to accurately identify lawn pests and subsequently select the proper treatment. But it is nice to know that a household standby like "regular" detergent is ready to bring pesky problems out in the open.

Treat Pigs To Eliminate Costly Worm Problems

Dairy Supplement Developed At Ohio Research Center

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

A pelleted combination of alfalfa meal and urea, developed by scientists at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, makes possible the doubling of the quantity of urea which may be fed to high producing cows without depressing production.

Called Dehy-100, the new supplement permits substitution of urea for more costly forms of supplement to furnish up to 40 per cent of the total dietary nitrogen in high grain dairy rations compared to the previous recommended maximum of 18-24 per cent.

When Dehy-100 is added to corn meal at the 9 per cent level, it provides a concentrate ration containing 18-19 per cent crude protein equivalent.

During the past year, milk yields of cows fed Dehy-100 were similar to those receiving soybean oil meal as the protein supplement. Research Center dairy scientists H. R. Conrad and J. W. Hibbs report that average production of cows receiving Dehy-100 was 14,589 pounds of 4 per cent fat corrected milk (FCM) and 14,008 pounds of 4 per cent FCM for those fed soybean oil meal.

Top production for an individual cow fed Dehy-100 as the protein supplement has been 107 pounds per day. Other ration components included 20 - 30 pounds of grain concentrate, 40-60 pounds of 27-32 per cent dry matter corn silage, and 3 pounds of alfalfa hay.

A abrupt change from soybean oil meal to Dehy-100 supplemented grain rations did not significantly affect production, the researchers say. However, abruptly inserting Dehy-100 into a July ration of freshly cut alfalfa silage did reduce grain intake.

The scientists reason that under these conditions the critical physiological level for readily soluble non-protein nitrogen in the diet was exceeded. Therefore, Dehy-100 would not be needed where other feeds in a ration contain very high levels of nitrogen as in the case of some forages.

The Dehy-100 pellets contain 66 per cent dehydrated alfalfa, 31.6 per cent urea, 2 per cent monosodium phosphate, and 0.4 per cent sodium propionate. The sodium propionate, a preservative, was recently incorporated into the supplement replacing sodium metabisulfite. (The use of metabisulfite as a food ingre-

The sixth meeting was held April 19 at the home of Polly Crist. We discussed money making projects. Karen Adams gave a demonstration on how to carry a knife. Refreshments were served by Linda Knece and Brenda Chaffin.

Duval Busy Fingers

The fifth meeting was held at the home of Ruth Coon on April 17. The pledges were given and the roll call was answered by the last book read.

This was the health meeting. The club had a discussion on health then took a short test. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

The sixth meeting was held May 1 at the Scioto Grange Hall. This was the annual Mother's Tea.

After a short business meeting a program was given by the girls. Refreshments were served.

Trail Blazers

The club met May 15 at the 4-H and Grange Building in Circleville. The president called the meeting to order and the pledges were led by Steph Wilkin.

The club decided to buy paint for the gates we used at the fair.

Sandy Perrill and Gail Hovis gave a demonstration on the saddle. At our next meeting Steph Wilkin will give a demonstration on the halter and bridle.

The next meeting will be held at Madison School on 7:30 p. m. June 12.

Guests present at the meeting were Mr. Perrill and Mrs. Wilkin.

Logan Elm Fashions and Foods

The meeting was called to order by vice president Paula Weaver.

Peggy Wilson led members in the 4-H Pledge. Roll call was answered by naming projects.

The beautification meeting was held at Noel's King Boy Restaurant on Lancaster Pike. Dues for this year have been set at $1.

Colt and Equitation Club

The May meeting was held at the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The meeting was mainly devoted to safety. President Nancy Christy suggested members sell tickets for the Kiwanis Show in May. The club voted to do so.

The second part of the meeting was devoted to a talk on general conformation of horses by Dr. F. P. Dunlap.

Judy Beckman conducted the safety program. Her speech was home, general and health around horses.

The next regular meeting will be the third Tuesday of June at the home of Lynn McCoy.

Duval Go Getters

The fourth meeting was held May 9 at the South Bloomfield Municipal Building.

The meeting was called to order by president Tim Wells. Pledges to the American and 4-H Flags were led by Karen Lombardo and Becky Young.

GREEN WARTS

Silver maple (water maple) leaves are infested with maple bladder galls now. These warts on the upper surface of the leaves will be green, then pink, then black before summer is over. No harm is usually done to the tree.

The galls are caused by a small mite that feeds on the leaves. They may be controlled by a recommended insecticide at budding.

WOODTICKS

If a woodtick becomes attached the simplest method of removing it is to grasp it and give it a steady pull but not so hard that you break off the mouthparts and leave them in the wound.

There is no certain way to make a tick detach his mouth parts. A drop of chloroform, carbon tetrachloride, ether, benzene, vaseline or fingernail polish rubbed over it will sometimes help remove it. It may take a few minutes for either of these to work.

Touching a lighted cigarette or hot needle to the tick may also cause him to loosen his hold.

An antiseptic should always be applied to a tick bite. If you touched the tick with the bare hands, be sure and wash them. The tick's secretion may contain 1 to 8 tick diseases.

U.S. To Help Feed Vietnam Army Families

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — The United States agreed Friday to help feed the families of South Vietnam's armed forces in the next year with a subsidy of $42 million worth of commodities to be sold them at greatly reduced prices.

Receipts from the sales will be used to build up the commissary system of the South Vietnamese armed forces, a spokesman for International Development—AID—said.

In Saigon, opponents of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky charged that the commodities would be used to buy votes for Ky in the September presidential election, while supporters of the premier let it be known the subsidy was the U.S. government's way of supporting Ky.

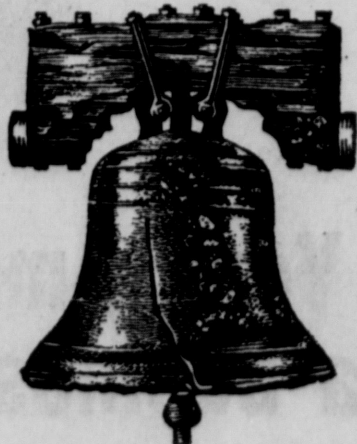

The AID spokesman said both claims were foolish.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland and Lt. Gen. Cao Van Vien, South Vietnam's defense minister, signed a "memorandum of understanding" in Da Nang providing for the United States to supply the military commissary system with such items as cooking oil, flour, sugar and salt.

The commissaries serve about 1.8 million dependents of some 625,000 men under arms. The system is not well organized at present and is poorly managed and equipped.

Field Progress Slow for Early Part of Month

By George Hamrick
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Rain and wet ground slowed fieldwork during the past week which ended May 19.

During that period, just over one day was favorable for fieldwork. During the first 19 days of May only four days were favorable.

This compares with an average of 14 days favorable and a total of seven days favorable for this same period in 1966.

The four days favorable for 1967 is the lowest since Weather-Crop records were started in 1954 for this period of time.

The next lowest of record was in May of 1956 and 1966 when just over seven days were favorable.

HOWEVER, in most areas of the state, during the past week the favorable period came on Thursday and Friday. Since Saturday, May 20, and Sunday, May 21, were also favorable, farmers made good progress during the last four days. This is reflected in the estimates of progress in this report.

Nearly 85 per cent of the reports now show surplus soil moisture supplies, while the balance of the data shows adequate conditions.

As of May 22, about 65 per cent of the plowing for corn and soybeans has been completed. This compares to a 5-year average of 79 and 86 per cent completed at this time last year.

Corn planting is now nearly 15 per cent completed due to some long working days over the past weekend. The normal progress for this date is 65 per cent completed and a year ago at this time 30 per cent of the crop was planted.

Soybean planting is now over 5 per cent completed, not too far behind last year's progress of 9 per cent, but about 12 days behind the normal progress of 40 per cent for this date.

Potato planting is 40 per cent completed, over three weeks behind the usual progress. Normally on this date over 80 per cent is planted. Last year at this time well over 60 per cent of the crop in the ground.

JUST OVER five per cent of the winter wheat crop has started to head, mostly in southern areas. This is behind normal since over 15 per cent of the crop is usually headed by this date. However, last year at this time only about five per cent of wheat was headed.

Over one-fourth of the barley is now headed and over five per cent of it is blooming, again mostly in southern areas of the state.

Two Ohioans Make Record Of 'The Sounds of London'

LONDON (AP) — The latest travel souvenir is a recording of London sounds, chosen by an American and containing surprises for many Londoners.

"We couldn't find anything apart from photographs that I think really captures the pleasures of our stay. I know other visitors think the same, so I'm going to make and market a record of the sounds of London. Will you design a record cover for it?"

That was a start of Sonologue Ltd., a British company formed by Steiner, Warren and Dick Colmery, a recording engineer. Both Steiner and Colmery are from Canton, Ohio.

"The Sounds of London" is an extended play record going

Pesticides Can Represent Problem to Dairy Farmers

By Jim Maxwell
Extension Trainee

The time is swiftly approaching when those barn pests will be flying through the air and causing comfort and sanitation problems.

The first reaction to insect and pest problems is get an insecticide or pesticide and get rid of them. This is fine, but watch out for contamination, especially with dairy cattle.

The cow is a very good filtering agent and will remove contamination from the air, her feed, and her skin and deposit it in her milk. Very small amounts of pesticides in milk can be detected and their presence is illegal.

Pesticides can enter the milk by four different methods. Absorption through the cow's skin can result from direct spraying of the animal with the wrong product.

THE CONSUMPTION of contaminated grain, roughage, or water can also result in pesticides in the milk. Even breathing spray will put some taint in the milk. Also, watch direct contamination of milk or milking utensils. Here are a few rules to remember:

1. Be sure feed does not contain objectionable residues.
2. Do not feed plant refuse containing persistent pesticide residues (or allow cows to graze or treated corn fields).
3. Be sure heifers or herd replacements have not been fed contaminated feed or feed improperly treated with insecticides. Insecticides are easily stored in body fat and may be excreted slowly over long periods.

Here are some pesticides and insecticides that are not to be used by the dairyman, according to the Ohio State University and the USDA: DDT, BHC, dieldrin, aldrin (except as pre-plant or corn grown off grain), heptachlor (except as pre-plant on corn grown for grain), eldrin, TDE, lindane.

Also remember, dairymen, be cautious in the use of herbicides, feed additives, and drugs so that residues will not appear in milk.

Paint Bids Sought

Sealed bids will be accepted until 10 a. m. June 20 to paint guard rail on State Routes 56, 180, 674 in Pickaway County.

Also to be included in the bid are contracts to paint rails on certain state and interstate routes in Delaware, Franklin, Madison, Morrow and Union Counties.

"We couldn't find anything apart from photographs that I think really captures the pleasures of our stay. I know other visitors think the same, so I'm going to make and market a record of the sounds of London. Will you design a record cover for it?"

That was a start of Sonologue Ltd., a British company formed by Steiner, Warren and Dick Colmery, a recording engineer. Both Steiner and Colmery are from Canton, Ohio.

"The Sounds of London" is an extended play record going on sale at stores, bookstalls and tourists' points at $1.75.

The sounds that set out to capture the city range from the changing of the guards to the bells of Westminster Abbey. It's a good bet that most Londoners have never heard a waiter at Lloyd's of London paging an insurance broker, or the voting bell in the House of Commons.

Woman Injured In Accident

Lena Campbell, 59, a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Russell Campbell, 59, of 712 S. Washington St., suffered a bruised forearm in an accident 8:15 p. m. Friday.

City police said the accident occurred at Washington and Union Sts. when Phillip Grubb, 17, of 134 Rosewood, stopped at the intersection and then pulled into the path of the Campbell vehicle.

Pesticides Can Represent Problem to Dairy Farmers

By Jim Maxwell
Extension Trainee

The time is swiftly approaching when those barn pests will be flying through the air and causing comfort and sanitation problems.

The first reaction to insect and pest problems is get an insecticide or pesticide and get rid of them. This is fine, but watch out for contamination, especially with dairy cattle.

The cow is a very good filtering agent and will remove contamination from the air, her feed, and her skin and deposit it in her milk. Very small amounts of pesticides in milk can be detected and their presence is illegal.

Pesticides can enter the milk by four different methods. Absorption through the cow's skin can result from direct spraying of the animal with the wrong product.

THE CONSUMPTION of contaminated grain, roughage, or water can also result in pesticides in the milk. Even breathing spray will put some taint in the milk. Also, watch direct contamination of milk or milking utensils. Here are a few rules to remember:

1. Be sure feed does not contain objectionable residues.
2. Do not feed plant refuse containing persistent pesticide residues (or allow cows to graze or treat corn fields).
3. Be sure heifers or herd replacements have not been fed contaminated feed or feed improperly treated with insecticides. Insecticides are easily stored in body fat and may be excreted slowly over long periods.

Here are some pesticides and insecticides that are not to be used by the dairyman, according to the Ohio State University and the USDA: DDT, BHC, dieldrin, aldrin (except as pre-plant or corn grown off grain), heptachlor (except as pre-plant on corn grown for grain), eldrin, TDE, lindane.

Also remember, dairymen, be cautious in the use of herbicides, feed additives, and drugs so that residues will not appear in milk.

Paint Bids Sought

Sealed bids will be accepted until 10 a. m. June 20 to paint guard rail on State Routes 56, 180, 674 in Pickaway County.

Also to be included in the bid are contracts to paint rails on certain state and interstate routes in Delaware, Franklin, Madison, Morrow and Union Counties.

The Business World

By John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Less than one year after reporting the ABA reported the American Bankers Association already has taken several steps against the "pattern of exclusion."

Among the steps: —Distribution by the ABA of a career brochure on banking to campus Hill groups. Hill is a foundation engaged in Jewish religious and cultural programs. —Addition of studies on discrimination and minority employment problems to the curriculum of Stonier Graduate School of Banking, conducted by the ABA at Rutgers University. —Plans for a workshop on discrimination to be included at the ABA annual convention in September. The ABA verifies that it is working on the problem, but it doesn't concede that conscious discrimination created it. As to the cause, Dr. Charles Walker, executive vice president of ABA says, "I frankly don't know. Some people would argue that there was conscious discrimination. But what we do know in no way indicates the cause."

The causes, the AJC maintains, range from open discrimination to more subtle—often unintentional—stereotyped thinking.

The committee's report states: "Thus, the absence of Jews from bank management was most frequently attributed to a supposed lack of interest in jobs of this kind, which in turn was —Jews are inclined toward wheeling and dealing, and impatient with the slow advancement of the typical banking career."

The slow progress of banking does not appeal to people who are aggressive. —Banking does not appeal to Jews because they are too anxious to get ahead and make substantial money.

The real reasons, the AJC maintains, are bias, false assumptions about the ability of Jews to become part of a team, misconceptions about career goals of Jews—they are supposedly too money-oriented and impatient.

In addition, the AJC maintains, young Jewish college graduates are discouraged from finding banking jobs because of the obvious absence of success by previous candidates and employees. And the bank's recruiter, convinced that the bank's anti-bias edicts are simply for show, sometimes believes Jews are unwelcome.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

The role of computers in medicine is becoming more extensive and more accurate each year. Rapid analysis of all tests can now be made within a fraction of the time it normally took on an individual basis.

There are now several hospitals all over the country in which gigantic computers receive and interpret electrocardiograms and wire back the results to doctors within minutes. It takes about eight minutes from the time of the request for the opinion of a "computer medical expert" to the time the information is received.

It is expected that millions of ECG studies will soon be read by the United States Public Health Service in a mass program to prevent the present devastation of heart disease in the young.

At the Mt. Sinai hospital in New York City, Dr. Charles Friedberg, famous specialist in heart disease, is using such a large computer to accumulate valuable evidence within minutes. Dr. Friedberg and his associates feel that the computer's accuracy is better than 90 per cent in even the most difficult cases.

They believe that "the combination of a computer and a doctor is better than either alone. They tend to correct each other's errors because they do not make the same mistakes."

The computer holds hope to be an important answer to the ways of improving diagnosis, treatment and the eventual recovery of more patients.

The games people play in their relationships with each other was the basis for a popular book written by Dr. Eric Berne. In it was shown the ways people manipulate each other under a variety of family, social and business situations.

An actual game is now being used by Dr. Robert A. Ravich, a psychiatrist, in a study on human behavior. At the Beth Israel Medical Center in New York City, Dr. Ravich uses model electric trains to study the marital and emotional problems of husbands and wives. He believes that this game-test can be used to interpret how well important decisions are made within the family circle.

The interpretation of the way the game is played is as revealing about the emotions as is an X-ray for physical disorders. Two hundred couples have already been studied by this unusual procedure.

They have been shown the value of the test in their daily life situations. The electric train

Ingredients of Happy Life

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Some things that make life worth living:

The humming of a wife, happy in her kitchen.

Beating the boss at gin rummy.

Opening a door and finding on the other side someone you long have wanted to see.

A letter from an old mother saying that everyone back home is doing fine — and so is her flower garden.

Counting the blooms on a lilac bush.

The stunning silence, louder than noise, that suddenly falls on a battlefield when all firing ceases.

The arms-around-shoulders singing of "Auld Lang Syne" at a farewell meeting of men who have fought a war together and know that the peace they won will not separate them forever.

Nothing in the world is quite as wistful as that feeling that the price of their victory is the loss of their unity.

Hearing the eager footsteps of someone running gladly to meet you in the dark.

Going window shopping on Fifth Avenue, in Manhattan on a lovely summer day, when all the important people have fled to the country.

Listening to an orthodontist say that his overhaul of your young daughter's teeth won't be as extensive — or expensive as you feared.

The relief at learning that an operation of a long-time friend discovered no malignancy.

The unutterable sensation of eating a plate of fried eggs, country ham, beaten biscuits and cream gravy after ending a long diet.

Dunking your flushed face in a cold spring during a long hot climb up a mountain in Colorado, Wyoming or Montana.

Standing under a waterfall, and imagining that it is washing away every guilt you've known since you punched the snooty nose of the jeering 5-year-old young lady who beat you at hop scotch in kindergarten.

Strolling in the city at twilight past the open window of an apartment wherein a sweet-voiced woman is playing the piano and singing some old tune, such as "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming." Being asked to make an assembly speech by the principal who once threatened to throw you out of high school for cutting capers in study hall. Getting a $15 raise when your wife had insisted only that you demand $7.50 more. Watching with a child the flash of a falling star, and making a silent wish that the child would grow up in a finer world than mankind has ever enjoyed before.

3 Dam Gates Still Jammed by Barges

CINCINNATI (AP)—Workmen succeeded Friday in removing one barge, but three of four gates at the Markland, Ind. dam on the Ohio River remained jammed open by sunken barges.

The jamming of the gates has allowed a free flow of the river and had reduced the water level at the huge dam to such an extent that river traffic has been halted.

Assistant Lockmaster Howard Gibson said there are about four tows with the barges both below and above the dam which can not move through.

The river tows and barges haul millions of tons of coal, steel, chemicals and other freight along the river.

Gibson said the barge removal Friday had blocked gate No. 4. Gates 1, 2 and 5 still were blocked and could not be closed. Gibson said only "we're working on it and we hope to get them cleared."

The barge at Gate 4 was lifted out by an overhead crane and moved upstream. Gibson said the water level at the dam now is 17 feet below the normal that is necessary for towboat traffic.

PAULA WEAVER, TOM SMITH

By VALERIE MAY
Selected as the top students of the 1967 graduating class at Logan Elm, Tom Smith and Paula Weaver have been named valedictorian and salutatorian.

Smith, 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, Route 1, Kingston. His athletic ability makes him an active member of the football, basketball and baseball teams.

While keeping a high scholastic average in the college prep course Tom has participated in such extra-curricular activities as pep club, chorus and the Bob Christopher Singers. He also is historian of the Logan Elm chapter of the National Honor Society.

This fall he will enter Purdue and major in engineering. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weaver, Route 4, Paula's sense of humor makes her a popular member of her class. She is enrolled in the college preparatory course.

Miss Weaver is editor of The Elm Log, the school newspaper, and vice president of the NHS. Pep club, library staff, Quill and Scholl, 4-H and Student Council are among her extra-curricular activities.

Paula's future plans are to enroll at OSU and major in elementary education.

Marble is regaining importance as a basic building stone.

Officers Elected By GAA Members

By LORNA POLING
The Girls' Athletic Assn. has elected officers for next year.

Cindy Valentine will serve as president. Other officers are Sharon Noble, vice president; Connie Jones and Sandy Dowden, secretaries; Janie Wright, treasurer; Nancy Wolford, news reporter; Wanda Dunkle, Student Council representative; and Peggy Wilson, student council alternate.

The GAA softball tournaments have been rescheduled for May 24.

3 Dam Gates Still Jammed by Barges

CINCINNATI (AP)—Workmen succeeded Friday in removing one barge, but three of four gates at the Markland, Ind. dam on the Ohio River remained jammed open by sunken barges.

The jamming of the gates has allowed a free flow of the river and had reduced the water level at the huge dam to such an extent that river traffic has been halted.

Assistant Lockmaster Howard Gibson said there are about four tows with the barges both below and above the dam which can not move through.

The river tows and barges haul millions of tons of coal, steel, chemicals and other freight along the river.

Gibson said the barge removed Friday had blocked gate No. 4. Gates 1, 2 and 5 still were blocked and could not be closed. Gibson said only "we're working on it and we hope to get them cleared."

The barge at Gate 4 was lifted out by an overhead crane

and moved upstream. Gibson said the water level at the dam now is 17 feet below the normal that is necessary for towboat traffic.

Donna Jean Good Is Wed To Marvin Eugene Orihood

MR. AND MRS. MARVIN E. ORIHOO

Pontious EUB Church was decorated with two seven-branched candelabras and white mums for the May 6, wedding of Miss Donna Jean Good, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Good, 137 Walnut St., to Marvin Eugene Orihood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin L. Orihood, New Holland.

Rev. Wiley Baker, performed the double ring ceremony. Organist was Mrs. Marjorie Vogt and vocalist was Miss Hazel Henniss.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza with a chapel length train, ending in chantilly lace. The bodice featured a scalloped neckline and was enhanced with simulated pearls and sequins. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a tiara encrusted with pearls.

The bride carried a bouquet of yellow roses, carnations and lily of the valley, atop a white bible, a gift of the groom. She wore a diamond necklace belonging to her mother.

Maid of honor was Miss Roberta Good, sister of the bride. She wore a floor length, gown of mint green crepe with a lace jacket. Her nylon tulle pouf veil was held with a satin bow.

Miss Beverly Wiley and Miss Janet Parker, bridesmaids, were attired in white lace gowns over mint green taffeta. Their pouf veils were held with tiny bells and satin bows.

Best man, for his brother, was Edward Orihood. Ushers were: Ted Tway, Roger Satchell and Michael Good, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Good chose for her daughters wedding a blue lace suit with white accessories. She wore a beige cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Orihood wore a blue suit with navy blue accessories and also wore a beige cymbidium orchid corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony in the EUB Service Center. A four tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table, yellow roses, bells and streamers completed the decorations.

The new Mrs. Orihood wore a pink dotted swiss dress with white accessories for the wedding trip. The couple are now residing at 120 1/2 Walnut St.

Out-of-town guest for the wedding were from: Clarksburg, New Holland, Washington, C. H. Darbydale, Ashville, Williamsport, Columbus and Chillicothe.

HIPPY WEDDING—The hippest June wedding of them all is expected in San Francisco on the tenth, when George Henry Fletcher Bennett, 26, will marry Kay Willie Olson, 25. He is manager of the rock 'n' roll band, "The Only Alternative and His Other Possibilities," in which she sings and beats the tambourine.

Mrs. Johnson Honored with Stork Shower

A regular monthly card club meeting was suddenly transformed into a Stork Shower Thursday evening, in the home of Mrs. Albert Johnson, 508 E. Ohio St., when members brought in gifts while the hostess was preparing refreshments.

Mrs. Johnson opened her gifts with the assistance of her two sons. The boys chose from among the gifts the things they wished the baby to wear on the trip home from the hospital.

Present for the event were: Mrs. Robert Shadley, Mrs. Forrest Gumm, Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. Donald Hannahs, Miss Sherry Moore, Mrs. John O'Hara Mrs. Lloyd Fisher, Mrs. Eugene Hanson, Mrs. Leo Sines, and Mrs. Nora Noice.

Sending gifts were, Mrs. Mack Young and Mrs. Richard Moore.

Claudia Frost Graduates from Eighth Grade

Mrs. Margaret Donaldson, 545 1/2 N. Court St., has returned to her home after attending the 8th grade graduation of her granddaughter, Claudia Diane Frost, from York Twp. elementary school, Morgan County.

Claudia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frost, Route 1, Crooksville Mrs. Frost is the former Margie Donaldson of Circleville, where she was a 1949 high school graduate.

Claudia was chosen 1967 "Girl of the Year" by her classmates and was awarded a trophy and certificate.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, May 27, the 147th day of 1967. There are 218 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt proclaimed an unlimited national emergency.

On this date:

In 1860, the Italian patriot, Giuseppe Garibaldi, invaded Sicily with a force of 1,000 men and captured Palermo.

In 1933, the Century of Progress exposition opened in Chicago.

In 1935, the U.S. Supreme Court killed the National Recovery Act.

In 1941, the British navy sank the German battleship Bismarck.

In 1944, American troops invaded Biak Island off New Guinea.

In 1964, Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru died.

Ten years ago—The trial of New York racketeer Johnny Dio was put off indefinitely when two convicted conspirators refused to testify.

Five years ago — Astronaut M. Scott Carpenter returned to Cape Kennedy, Fla., for a hero's welcome after a troubled, plagued orbital flight.

One year ago — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the NATO allies there would be no major reduction of U.S. troops in Europe.

If you flour chicken livers before sauteeing, they'll have an attractive brown exterior. An easy way to do this is to put flour, salt and pepper in a brown paper bag, add the halved livers and shake well.

Self-Examination Can Be Rather Frightening Thing

By MRS. MARION SINES
"If parents would only realize how they bore their children." This quote from George Bernard Shaw is one we simply don't want or don't care to think about too much. Actually, we probably shrink from such thoughts, because it would involve self-examination. And this is rather frightening.

If we had a tape recorder secluded in our homes and listened to the play-back of our utterances for one day, we would want to hide. But where could we hide?

How could we take back the thoughtless, unnecessary cruel things we said? How could we change our tone of voice? How could we change our sarcasms to constructive remarks?

To a more or less degree we probably are all guilty of being a bore to our children. Isn't it wonderful that they love us in spite of ourselves?

This works both ways though, because we see faults in our children, forgive their mistakes, protect and love them.

It would be a great improvement for everyone if we would hesitate and engage brains a little before we started moving our lips.

Even after a short time of this kind of behavior we would undoubtedly see that our children were changing too. They reflect our actions in many ways.

Maybe the word we all should remember is politeness. One definition is: "Politeness is to do and say the kindest thing in the kindest way."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren Grandma's Plans Need Clarifying

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother whom I haven't seen for 21 years. I was 9 and my brother was 4 when she gave us away to a neighbor to bring up. I am now happily married and have two small children.

Out of the blue my mother wrote saying she wants to visit me and see her grandchildren. I wrote back making her welcome. Now large boxes and crates have begun arriving here, addressed to my mother. My husband says it looks to him like she is planning to live with us. He says the day she arrives he will tell her she can stay for one month and that is the limit.

Abby, I feel sorry for her as she has had a rough life. Altho she hasn't been much of a mother, she has paid for her mistakes, and if I can make the rest of her life a little happier, I want to do all I can. She is only 47 years old.

I can't blame my husband, but it's my house, too. What should I do?

TORN
DEAR TORN: Don't make any judgments or decisions until your mother arrives. I do believe, however, if her presence creates any problems between your husband and you, you owe your husband more than the "mother" you describe. (P. S. I don't know who raised you, dear lady, but somewhere along the way you acquired an admirable character, showing understanding and compassion.)

DEAR ABBY: First let me explain that mine is not a "have to" wedding. Clyde (fake name) and I have been engaged since last Christmas. The problem is, I think I am pregnant, and my wedding is 4 months off. I know I shouldn't wear a white gown and veil, but I already bought mine and if I can get into it I plan to wear it. I haven't told anybody except Clyde, but I may have to tell my mother because I feel rotten in the morning and she may guess the reason. If I am pregnant, would it be O. K. to go ahead and have a big church wedding like I planned? We would tell people later that the baby was premature. Please rush your answer to me as I am nervous and confused.

CLYDE'S BRIDE
DEAR BRIDE: Under the circumstances, I would suggest you have a simple wedding — and soon! Don't count on fooling anyone who can count to nine. Least of all the clergyman who will officiate at your wedding and will be called upon shortly

'Mother' Doesn't Rate With Nielsen, It Seems

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) —What ever happened to mother on the home screen?

"She has been ruled out by Nielsen," suggests writer-producer Edmund Hartman, referring to the audience-rating service.

He appears to be right. Take a look at the major television series and you'll find a scarcity of mothers. Why?

"I'm not certain," adds Hartman. "But, whether it's a 'Bonanza' or 'The Monroes,' it seems that a show is more dramatic to eliminate the character of the mother."

Motherless shows apparently are funnier, too. Nobody is more convinced of that than Hartman, who happens to be producer of the 7-year-old "My Three Sons" and this season's success, "Family Affair." Both concern males—Fred MacMurray, Brian Keith—faced with the awesome task of rearing children without female help.

Neither show has exactly been embraced by the critics. This, of course, ruffles Hartman, a movie veteran who supervises and contributes to the writing of both series.

"I think the critics have underestimated 'My Three Sons,'" Hartman insists. "A show that is going into its eighth year must have something. The thing that I think intrigues viewers is how a man copes

OBBF Official Urges Lower Wheat Allotment

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sam C. Cashman, vice president of commodity services, Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, Friday recommended reduction of 10 - 15 per cent in the 1968 national wheat allotment.

"Farmers in Ohio and throughout the nation face the prospect of extremely low wheat prices during the next marketing season because they responded to USDA's action which increased allotments by 32 per cent this year," Cashman said at a hearing held here by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Farm Bureau officials pointed out that estimates place the soft wheat crop at about 300 million bushels, which could be a record. Officials said "a possible carryover of about 113 million bushels of soft wheat on July 1, 1968, poses a serious threat to Ohio wheatfarmers."

Cashman said Ohio farmers are willing to produce wheat for the needy nations but that "if production is encouraged, then farmers ought to be assured that the wheat will be taken out of the market, and not be permitted to depress domestic prices."

Two Pickaway Horses Finish 'In the Money' at Downs

Pickaway horsemen with five entries in races at Scioto Downs Friday finished "in the money" twice.

Emmitt Ebenhack, driving Rocky Supreme, was third by 3 1/4 lengths in the second race, trailing O. E. O., who was second and the winner, Modock Time. The time of the mile was 2:06 4-5.

In the fourth race, won in 2:05 4-5, Little Choice was second by 2 1/4 lengths. Owned by the Bowling Stable of Circleville, Jim Mace was the driver.

Other local starters last night included Mary K. Creed, driven by Forrest Short, a seventh place finisher in the first race, Sonny Dawn, with Ralph Strous in the sulky, eighth in the fourth race and Sara Ann Scotch, driven by Short, sixth in the fifth race.

On tonight's race card, local horsemen will have five entries going postward.

The second race, a pace Emmitt Ebenhack will be driving Miss Red Lion. The third race has Patsy Dawn, owned and driven by Ralph Strous, starting from the number five position.

Forrest Short, one of the busiest of Pickaway horsemen, has Jet Pride entered in the seventh race and Royal J. Win in the seventh race. The latter race, a preferred pace, has a purse of $2,500.

Rounding out the entries by local drivers is Pink Taffy, owned by Frank Rhoads and driven by Jim Mace.

Monday night, Short has Kay Creed entered in the second race and Emmett Ebenhack in the second race, and May Vo in the second race.

Vikings Lose Doubleheader To Hartley

Teays Valley lost both halves of a doubleheader Friday to visiting Columbus Bishop Hartley, dropping the first, 8-7, in eight innings, and the second, 3-1.

The first tilt was knotted, 7-7, after the regulation seven frames. In the top of the eighth, Cunningham received a walk for Hartley, stole second and scored on a single by Griffin. The run held up during the Vikings' half of the inning.

Glenn Gulick went the distance for the Vikings on the mound. He had control problems striking out five and issuing 10 walks.

Shaeffer started pitching chores for Hartley and was relieved in the third by Barzinger. Masterson came on in the seventh and picked up the win.

THE SECOND game turned into a pitchers' duel between Teays Valley's John Beavers and Hartley's Whitlatch.

Beavers fanned 12 batters, walked four and allowed three hits. Whitlatch struck out 10, walked three and scattered six hits.

During the twinbill Rex Gregg of Teays Valley had five hits, Gulick four and Mike Lombardo three runs batted in.

Hartley boosted their record to 20-3. Teays Valley stands 5-13.

The Vikings' last game of the season is Wednesday when Columbus East comes to Teays Valley field.

Glenville Pins Track Hopes on 4

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Glenville put its hopes for a third straight Class AA high school track championship on four swift runners today.

Coach Jim Deno's Tarblooders set out to finish 1-2 in both the 100 and 200 and were looking for a first in the 800-yard relay. If that happens, Glenville would register 26 points, the same number that won the championship for the Cleveland school a year ago.

The Glenville foursome of Jim Biggum, William Clair, Bob Ware and Don Price highlighted Friday's qualifying heats with a record-smashing 1:27.6 in the 800 yard breaking their own mark of 1:28.2 a year ago.

Three other marks fell as they prepped for today's 15-event finale.

Dennis Boyd of Newbury, who won his heats in the 200 and 400, set a new standard in the 440 with a blistering 49.1. The old mark, which had stood for 33 years, was held by Harland Howells of Mentor.

The other records tumbled in both the Class AA and A mile-relay events. Cleveland Kennedy sped the route in 3:18.9, and Aurora, in Class A, ran the distance in 3:26.6.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

Friday Was Day of Battle For Ohio HS Baseball Teams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Friday was a day of pitching battles in the Ohio high school baseball tournament semifinals, with two onehitters in the Class AA games sparkling brightest.

Cincinnati Western Hills (22-3) moved into today's Class AA finals against Boardman (13-1), and Edon (15-1) and Nelsonville (17-4) survived in Class A play.

Cincinnati's Dave Raible picked up steam against Lancaster as the game moved on but gave up his only hit in the sixth inning after he had struck out eight in a row. Rex Kern beat out an infield hit with two outs, the only Lancaster safety in the 4-0 Cincinnati victory.

Raible, who totaled 11 strikeouts in the contest, registered his 15th season victory and fifth shutout. He also had two hits, along with teammate Emil Roberto.

Boardman's Guy Tepsick and Jack Hay combined for the other one-hitter, in the Youngstown area team's 3-1 decision over Columbus Whetstone. Tepsick was lifted because of control problems — he walked four and hit one man — and Hay got the victory in relief.

Edon's 2-1 victory over Gnadenhutten was in eight innings, one over regulation for high school play. Fred Long tripled and scored on pitcher Mike Hug's single for the tie-breaker. Nelsonville pulled out its 2-1 victory over Clinton — Massie with two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning. John Coker's single drove in the deciding run.

Cleveland Indians Grab 4-3 Victory over Yankees

CLEVELAND (AP) — A switch from a bunt signal to a two-base throwing error by New York third baseman Charlie Smith and a run-scoring single by Pedro Gonzalez that atoned for a costly error were important factors in the Cleveland Indians' 4-3 victory over the Yankees Friday night.

The Indians had two runners on with nobody out and three runs behind when Max Alvis went to the plate in the third inning with orders to bunt. But after two pitches, Manager Joe Adcock withdrew the bunt signal and Alvis clouted his fourth homer of the season to tie the score.

Gonzalez drove in the winning run with his single in the eighth following Smith's throwing error.

There were two out when Joe Azcue bounced a single off Smith's chest and went all the way to third when the third baseman threw wild past first. The Yankees scored all their runs in the second inning on Steve Whitaker's bunt single, Gonzalez' error and successive singles by Smith, Reuben Amaro, Fritz Peterson and Horace Clarke.

All the runs were unearned because of the error, so Steve Hargan's earned run average was reduced to 1.71 as he won his sixth game in nine decisions.

Adcock reserved most of his praise for Hargan, whom he called "quite a competitor" and said "he was throwing harder in the ninth inning than when the game started."

"I was just waiting for that one run," Hargan said. "I go through the eighth inning (when the heart of the Yankee batting order was up) and score, we had a pretty good chance."

Fred Talbot will pitch for the Yankees in a twilight game tonight. He will be opposed by Sonny Siebert or John O'Donoghue.

Bobby Rousseau of Montreal led his team in scoring last season with 19 goals and 44 assists for 63 points, sixth best figure in the National Hockey League.

Pirates Beat Reds, 5-4 In 12-Inning Struggle

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Veale flirted with immortality, but gladly would have settled for a chance just to finish the game.

Manager Harry Walsor of the Pittsburgh Pirates played it straight though and didn't let Veale finish. The Pirates won, but, Veale feels like a loser. Pittsburgh beat Cincinnati 5-4 in 12 innings Friday night but Veale, the Pirates' pitcher, was long gone at the finish.

Veale had a perfect game for 5 2-3 innings and a very respectable three-hitter through eight. But even with a one-run lead, that was as far as he got.

"Didn't I deserve a chance to finish?" Veale asked bursquely after the game. "Do you think I should have stayed in?"

"I thought Veale might be a little tired," Walker said.

Pittsburgh won the game when Roberto Clemente lashed a bases-loaded single to left in the 12th. Darrell Osteen loaded the sacks by hitting Jesse Gonder and Matty Alou with pitched balls and walking Jose Pagan. Gonder was the central character in a key play in the top of the 12th, when Vada Pinson was called out trying to score from first on a double by Pete Rose.

"I flagged at him," Gonder said. "I'm not sure I tagged him, but he didn't touch the plate either. I was getting ready to go at him again when the umpire called him out. If

I got him, I got him on the bottom of his foot. He hit my toe—he never touched the plate." Each team had scored in somewhat unusual fashion in the 11th to prolong the drama. Cincinnati's Tommy Helms was credited with an inside-the-park homer when his line drive to center took a freak bounce over Alou's head.

With two out in the last of the 11th, Bill Mazeroski took a half-hearted swing an an 0-2 pitch and blooped it to right to score Alou and tie it up again.

Twenty-two of Boston's 43 hockey losses last season were at the hands of two clubs. Chicago beat the Bruins 11 times and so did Toronto. The Bruins beat Chicago and Toronto twice and tied with them once.

Glenville Pins Track Hopes on 4

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Glenville put its hopes for a third straight Class AA high school track championship on four swift runners today.

Coach Jim Dene's Tarblooders set out to finish 1-2 in both the 100 and 200 and were looking for a first in the 800-yard relay. If that happens, Glenville would register 36 points, the same number that won the championship for the Cleveland school a year ago.

The Glenville foursome of Jim Biggum, William Clair, Bob Ware and Don Price highlighted Friday's qualifying heats with a record-smashing 1:27.6 in the 800 relay breaking their own mark of 1:28.2 a year ago.

Three other marks fell as they prepped for today's 15-event finale.

Dennis Boyd of Newbury, who won his heats in the 220 and 440, set a new standard in the 440 with a blistering 49.1. The old mark, which had stood for 33 years, was held by Harland Howells of Mentor.

The other records tumbled in both the Class AA and A mile-relay events. Cleveland Kennedy sped the route in 1:27.8, and Aurora, in Class A, ran the distance in 3:26.6.

Friday Was Day of Battle For Ohio HS Baseball Teams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Friday was a day of pitching battles in the Ohio high school baseball tournament semifinals, with two onehitters in the Class AA games sparking brightest.

Cincinnati Western Hills (22-3) moved into today's Class AA finals against Boardman (13-1), and Edon (15-1) and Nelsonville (17-4) survived in Class A play.

Cincinnati's Dave Raible picked up steam against Lancaster as the game moved on but gave up his only hit in the sixth inning after he had struck out eight in a row. Rex Kern beat out an infield hit with two outs, the only Lancaster safety in the 4-0 Cincinnati victory.

Raible, who totaled 11 strikeouts in the contest, registered his 13th season victory and fifth shutout. He also had two hits, along with teammate Emil Roberto.

Pirates Beat Reds, 5-4 In 12-Inning Struggle

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Veale flirted with immortality, but gladly would have settled for a chance just to finish the game.

Manager Harry Waler of the Pittsburgh Pirates played it straight though and didn't let Veale finish. The Pirates won, but, Veale feels like a loser.

Pittsburgh beat Cincinnati 5-4 in 12 innings Friday night but Veale, the Pirates' pitcher, was long gone at the finish.

Veale had a perfect game for 5 2-3 innings and a very respectable three-hitter through eight. But even with a one-run lead, that was as far as he got.

"Didn't I deserve a chance to finish?" Veale asked bursquely after the game. "Do you think I should have stayed in?"

"I thought Veale might be a little tired," Walker said.

Pittsburgh won the game when Roberto Clemente lashed a bases-loaded single to left in the 12th. Darrell Osteen loaded the sacks by hitting Jesse Gonder and Matty Alou with pitched balls and walking Jose Pagan.

Gonder was the central character in a key play in the top of the 12th, when Vada Pinson was called out trying to score from first on a double by Pete Rose.

"I flagged at him," Gonder said. "I'm not sure I tagged him, but he didn't touch the place either. I was getting ready to go at him again when the umpire called him out. If

I got him, I got him on the bottom of his foot. He hit my toe—he never touched the plate." Each team had scored in somewhat unusual fashion in the 11th to prolong the drama. Cincinnati's Tommy Helms was credited with an inside - the - park homer when his line drive to center took a freak bounce over Alou's head.

With two out in the last of the 11th, Bill Mazeroski took a half-hearted swing an an 0 - 2 pitch and blooped it to right to score Alou and tie it up again.

Twenty-two of Boston's 43 hockey losses last season were at the hands of two clubs. Chicago beat the Bruins 11 times and so did Toronto. The Bruins beat Chicago and Toronto twice and tied with them once.

SF Giants Trim Los Angeles, 4-1

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Juan Marichal entertained the Los Angeles Dodgers, it's a Candlestick Park breeze.

But whenever — and wherever — Roberto Clemente and the Cincinnati Reds run into each other, it's a fight for survival.

Marichal became the major leagues' first eight-game winner Friday night by scattering six hits as the San Francisco Giants trimmed the visiting Dodgers 4-1.

Clemente, meanwhile, continued his one-man crusade against Cincinnati by stroking a bases-loaded single in the 12th inning that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-5 nod over the National League leaders.

In other NL action, Philadelphia topped St. Louis 7-4 on Don Lock's three-run homer, New York nipped Atlanta 1-0 on Don Cardwell's three-hitter and Houston flattened Chicago 17-4 in a club-record scoring spree.

Detroit slugged Washington 10-5, Minnesota blanked Kansas City 5-0, Baltimore edged Boston 4-3, Cleveland shaded New York 4-3 and California split a double header with Chicago, winning 7-2 and then losing 2-1.

In beating the Dodgers for the 14th time in 14 Candlestick Park decisions, Marichal ran his winning string to eight after three setbacks at the start of the season. The Dominican dandy has beaten the Dodgers twice this year.

Clemente, the league's leading hitter, settled an 11-day-old score with Cincinnati by breaking up the extra-inning struggle at Pittsburgh. When the clubs opened a three-game series at Cincinnati on May 15, Clemente drove in seven runs with three homers and a double, only to come out on the short end of an 8-7, 10-inning decision.

Home runs by Jim Hart, in the second inning, and Ollie L.

Brown, in the fourth, made Marichal's job an easy fling. He blanked the Dodgers until the eighth, when Willie Davis' run-scoring single averted a shut-out.

The Reds, however, gave Clemente a dizzy run for his money. He singled in the first in-base hit by right fielder Tommy Harper in the third, and chopped a hard grounder in the fifth that got through shortstop Leo Cardenas for a two-run error.

With the score tied 2-2 in the seventh, the Pirates' superstar struck out. With the game deadlocked 4-4 in the ninth, he reached base on another error by Cardenas, but was thrown out at the plate trying to score from second on a passed ball.

Finally, after Cincy reliever Darrell Osteen loaded the bases on a walk and two hit batters in the 12th, Clemente delivered the hit to left field that broke a 5-5 angle.

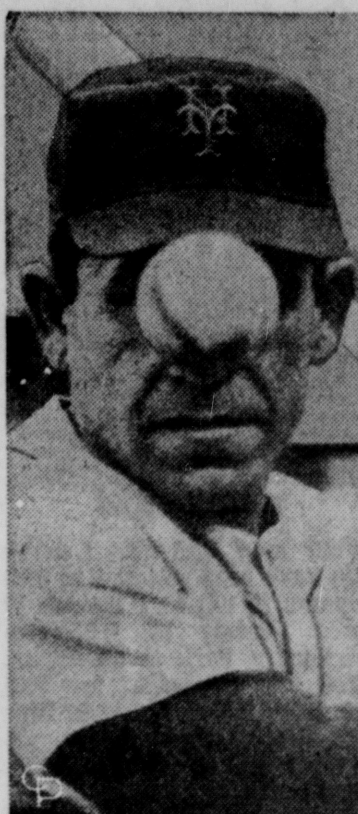

Lock capped a four-run Philadelphia rally in the eighth inning with his three-run blast after getting a life when Cards second baseman Phil Gagliano misjudged his foul pop outside first base.

Johnny Callison crashed a pair of homers for the Phillies and Rich Allen singled across the tying run in the eighth before Lock connected.

The Mets Cardwell made Jerry Buchek's second inning home. The Mets' Cardwell made Jerry run stand up against the Braves, who have scored in only one inning of their last three starts and have had just eight hits during that stretch.

The Astros walloped four homers, good for 10 runs, in topping their previous high of 16 runs, scored against the Mets in 1962. Rusty Staub and Joe Morgan hit three-run homers while Jim Wynn and Ron Davis belted two-run shots.

JUST CALL HIM "SCHNOZZ"? —The odd juxtaposition of the ball as it nears Yogi Berra makes the New York Mets coach look as though he has developed a nose that would be the pride of Jimmy Durante or the late W. C. Fields. Yogi was in the act of knocking grounders during a Mets infield workout before a game with the Braves in Atlanta.

Joint Observance Is Held At St. Philip's Episcopal

St. Philip's Church

The Institution of the Rev. David Bruce Allardyce and a Sesquicentennial of the Church were conducted as a joint observance Friday evening at St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

On hand to present the letter of Institution of Mr. Allardyce was the Rt. Rev. Roger W. Blanchard D.D., bishop of Southern Ohio. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Roger B. Nichols, rector of Trinity Church in Columbus.

St. Philip's is defined as the oldest continuing church in Circleville. Established in 1817, its parishioners worshiped in several locations, including the Presbyterian Church, the city building and a white wooden church.

The church was established by the Rev. Philander Chase. The present building was erected in 1868.

An impressive procession preceded the services. The order of march was: crucifer, Girls Choir, Adult Choir, American Flag bearer, city officials, ministers of other churches, Episcopal Church Flag, layreaders of the parish, wardens and vestry, Diocesan Episcopal Church Women, clergy of the Diocese, the new rector and the bishop.

Bishop Blanchard presented the Bible, Book of Common Prayer and Books of Canons to Mr. Allardyce. William W. Weldon Sr., warden, along with Lawrence Johnson, presented keys of the church to the new rector.

Rev. Nichols, in his sermon, noted that a sesquicentennial is a time to look back to see if the congregation has been faithful to the objectives set when Rev. Chase founded the church. He also termed it a period to question if the objectives were right.

3,695 Residents

In Pickaway

Receive HEW Aid

Figures recently released from the Department of Health Education and Welfare and the Social Security Administration stated that at the end of 1966, a total of 3,695 men, women and children in Pickaway County were listed as receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $241,540.

A breakdown of the figures show that 2,631 were older persons, receiving benefits as retired workers, the wives and husbands of retired workers as the surviving widows or aged dependent parents of workers who have died, says John J. Carr, Social Security district manager in Chillicothe.

But social security is not just for older people, Mr. Carr pointed out, 581 young widows and children in Pickaway County were receiving benefits amounting to $34,823 a month at the end of Dec. A total of 355 disabled workers and dependents were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $21,812.

Practically every young family in Pickaway County has survivors protection under social security that can be worth $75,000 or more, and equally valuable disability insurance protection.

Joint Observance Is Held At St. Philip's Episcopal

St. Philip's Church

The Institution of the Rev. David Bruce Allardyce and a Sesquicentennial of the Church were conducted as a joint observance Friday evening at St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

On hand to present the letter of Institution of Mr. Allardyce was the Rt. Rev. Roger W. Blanchard D.D., bishop of Southern Ohio. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Roger B. Nichols, rector of Trinity Church in Columbus.

St. Philip's is defined as the oldest continuing church in Circleville. Established in 1817, its parishioners worshipped in several locations, including the Presbyterian Church, the city building and a white wooden church.

The church was established by the Rev. Philander Chase. The present building was erected in 1868.

An impressive procession preceded the services. The order of march was: crucifer, Girls Choir, Adult Choir, American Flag bearer, city officials, ministers of other churches, Episcopal Church Flag, layreaders of the parish, wardens and vestry, Diocesan Episcopal Church Women, clergy of the Diocese, the new rector and the bishop.
